Though the cases may be few and ~~few between~~ few as stated by the Dy Comm yet the appointment of a remote infirmary is likely to be of no use even in the few cases that may arise A Jutka pony rendered lame by the cruel treatment of a servant of the owner may have to be transmitted from Periyapatna to Mysore or from Mandya to Mysore and the cost of transmission together with the cost of treatment at the infirmary, feed & water charges ~~are~~ may exceed the sale price of the animal after recovery. The owner is not bound to pay more than the sale price Vide clause 6 of Sec 6 of the Regln: Further the Regulation does not specifically state as to how the charges of transmission should be recovered

Moreover the Regulation states that the offences shall be tried by the local magistrate and it therefore probably contemplates the location of an infirmary at a convenient distance from the place of trial May this aspect of the case be pointed to the Dc & fresh proposals called for ?

Deputy Comr proposes to mark disabled animals over a distance of 4 3 miles in some cases - example Periapatna - His suggestion to have a Central Infirmary at Mysore to serve the needs of such distant places around Mysore City seems to be impracticable.

BS. It is only in respect of 2314 offences against Sub Sec 1 of Sec 6, that it is permissible to send the animal involved to an Infirmary Even then it is discretionary and not obligatory - The trying Magistrate may be expected to exercise his discretion properly Of Course if the animal is not in a Condition fit to walk or to be carried in a Cart to the Infirmary he won't order it being sent to the Infirmary at all - But if the animal is fit to be so sent, there Can be no objection to its doing so, as its best chance of recovery lies in its being properly treated

The usual mode of transport would be walking but in Extreme Cases, the animal may

Carried in a cart under the Regulation the owner is bound to pay the "Cost of treatment" This may be interpreted as including the Cost of transport for purposes of treatment also & not merely the Cost of medicines

After all the Regulation is intended to be more a preventive than a punitive measure and the very prospect of having to bear the cost of transport etc may operate as a deterrent against Employment of animals unfit for labour

To the present the Aligarh Vet Hospital may as proposed by the D-C be appointed an Infirmary - Later on when we gain experience, we might think of appointing other places

Sir,

With reference to your letter No 12844-50/M1 380-13-1 dated 19th June 1914 calling for proposals for the opening of infirmaries in respect of places in which the Regulation for the prevention of cruelty to animals " is inforce in this District, I have the honor to state that the said regulation has been introduced into the places as per enclosed list in this District The treatment of horses and other animals requires professional skill and knowledge and the Sub Assistant Surgeons placed in charge of Local Fund Dispensaries at Taluk Head Quarters may not possess as much knowledge as Veterinary Inspectors have There are no Veterinary Hospitals and dispensaries at any of the Taluk Head Quarters in this District I am therefore of opinion that the Veterinary Hospital in the Mysore City may be appointed under Section 6(2) of the said Regulation as an infirmary for the treatment and care of animals As the No of cases tried under the said Regulation will not be many, there will not be much difficulty in sending the animals to the Veterinary Hospital at Mysore though it is not near to the places of trial i.e. Mandya and Maldvally

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient Servant,

Deputy Commissioner,
Mysore District
